

Careers using Art & Design

Graphic designer
Photographer
Costume designer
Landscape architect
CAD technician
Illustrator
Web developer
Product designer
Architect

102,500 people currently employed in creative businesses across Scotland. From the 'Skills Sector Assessment 2022'.

Almost all types of industry need people with creative skills including those in digital marketing, textiles and architecture.

Art and design helps to build skills in working with adapting, collaborating and creativity.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Biology

Dentist
Nurse
Doctor
Dietitian
Midwife
Geneticist Physiotherapist
Vet
Paramedic
Pathologist

NHS Scotland is the largest employer of any kind in Scotland by number of employees.

Biology is useful in a range of industries including healthcare, animal care and scientific research.

Biology helps to build skills in curiosity, collaborating and communicating.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Business Admin

Accounting
Management consultant
Civil service officer
Sales manager
Administrative assistant
Human resources adviser
Paralegal
Customer service adviser
Charity fundraiser
Operational researcher

There are around 68,600 people working in administrative roles in Scotland right now.

All employers need business admin. You could work anywhere from a digital tech firm to a hospital, or even the government.

Business admin helps build skills in integrity, communicating and sense making.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Chemistry

Pharmacologist
Food technologist
Recycling operative
Dentist
Laboratory technician
Chemical engineer
Environmental health officer
Biochemist
Energy engineer
Scenes of crime officer

24,600 in life and chemical sciences as per 2022 sector skills assessment.

Chemistry is useful for jobs in medicine, engineering and food science.

Chemistry helps to build skills in problem solving, researching and communication.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Computing Science

Software developer
Web developer
IT support technician
Games Developer
Systems analyst
Ethical hacker
Project manager
Medical physicist
Forensic computer analyst
Criminal intelligence analyst

There are 87,200 people working in the digital technology sector in Scotland.

Almost all jobs need you to have technology skills, including finance, teaching, engineering, scientific research and even farming.

Computing science helps to build skills in creativity, initiative and focusing.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using English

Solicitor
Teacher
Journalist
Literary agent
Social worker
Paralegal
Marketing manager
Public relations officer
TV or film producer
Careers adviser

English is needed for most jobs including those you might not expect such as engineering and science.

English useful in all industries, particularly creative and digital media, law and the public sector - including education.

English helps to build skills in communicating, leading and critical thinking.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using

Graphic Communication

Graphic Designer
Advertising copywriter
Medical illustrator
Model maker
Public relations officer
Photographer
User experienter designer
Signmaker
Technical surveyor
Animator

There are approximately 5,500 graphic designers currently employed in Scotland.

There are 102,500 people employed in creative businesses across Scotland.

Graphic communications help to build skills in focusing, communicating and creativity.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Home Economics and Hospitality

Chef
Catering manager
Events manager
Textile technologist
Hotel manager
Technical brewer
Fashion designer
Restaurant manager
Agricultural engineer
Baker

There are 182,400 people currently working in the tourism industry.

Home economics and hospitality can lead to many different careers in catering, events management, and fashion.

Home economics/hospitality helps build skills in Focusing, Creativity and Collaborating.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Languages

Interpreter Translator
Nursing

Speech and language therapist

Diplomatic service officer

Customer service adviser

Early years practitioner

Immigration officer

Air cabin crew

Hotel manager

The British Council have named Spanish, Mandarin and French as the top three languages for the future.

A foreign language can take you anywhere – literally! Languages are in-demand across every industry, from social care to hospitality and government.

Languages help build skills in communicating, feeling and adapting.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Maths

Accountant
Stockbroker
Data analyst
Astronomer
Economist
Quantity surveyor Statistician
Games developer
Air traffic controller
Mechanical engineer

63,900 working in financial services industry in Scotland.

Maths is helpful in a range of industries, from finance and engineering to construction and computer games design.

Maths helps to build skills in attention to detail, problem solving and creativity.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Music & Drama

Studio sound engineer
Stage manager
Music therapist
TV or film producer
Early years practitioner
TV or film camera operator
Actor Musician
Choreographer
Broadcast engineer

there are currently 102,500 people employed in creative businesses across Scotland.

Music and drama is useful in lots of jobs including childcare, healthcare and even games development.

Music and drama helps build skills in collaborating, creativity and initiative.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Physical Education

Physical education teacher
Sports professional Dietitian
Nursing Physiotherapist
Sports coach
Army soldier
Coastguard
Personal trainer Firefighter

There are currently around 8,000 personal trainers in Scotland.

There are 277,100 people currently working in healthcare.

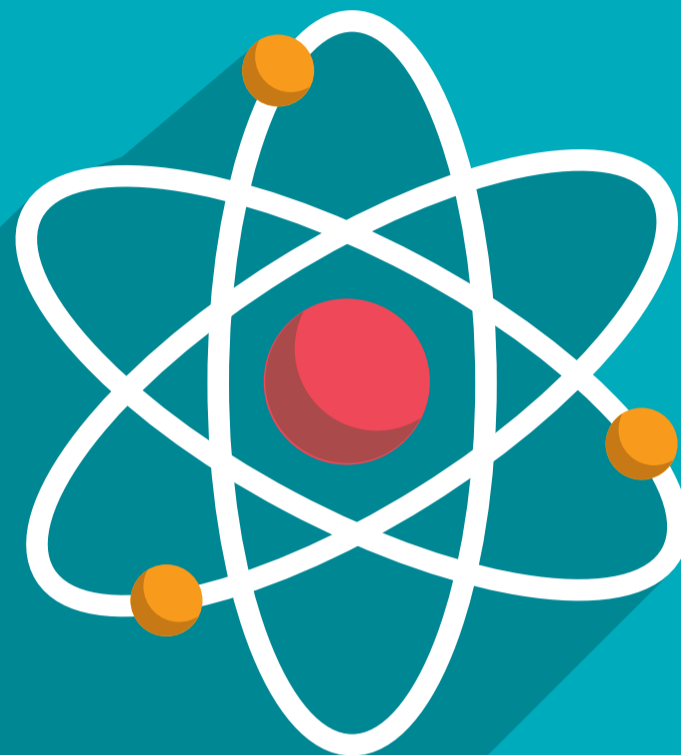

Physical education helps to build skills in adapting, collaborating and critical thinking.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Physics

Medical physicist
Naval architect
Energy engineer
Dispensing optician
Civil engineer
Radiographer
Electrical engineer
Mechanical engineer
Prosthetist-orthotist
Aerospace engineer

Physics is great for future engineers. By 2025, a further 8,200 people will be needed to fill job openings.

Physics is needed for lots of different industries, including digital technologies, manufacturing and construction.

Physics helps to build skills in focusing, communicating and sense making.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Religious, Moral and Philosophical Studies

Advocate

Community education coordinator

Counselling psychologist

Local government officer

Forensic psychologist

Member of Parliament (MP)

Procurator Fiscal

Psychotherapist

Solicitor

Teacher

There are 11,600 solicitors currently employed across Scotland.

There are 176,500 people currently working in the social care industry in Scotland.

RMPS helps to build skills in integrity, feeling and curiosity.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk

Careers using Social Sciences

Civil engineer

Archaeologist

Conservator

Archivist

Town planner

Forensic computer analyst

Environmental consultant

Geoscientist

Meteorologist

Politician

Geography, Modern Studies and History help you to understand the world about you, which is useful in many jobs.

Social science subjects are useful in industries such as the public sector, engineering and construction.

Social sciences help to build skills in feeling, communicating and leading.

Explore your career options

myworldofwork.co.uk